ABSTRACT

A summary of a survey conducted in the winter of 1976-77, this document presents data on the video resources of 381 libraries in the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico in two major sections: (1) a "directory" which lists the libraries alphabetically by state and provides each library's responses to the survey questions, as well as the telephone numbers of the institution or the name and telephone number of the institution's respondent; (2) a series of data tables, each one corresponding to a particular question of the survey and statistically summarizing the responses to it. The survey form is included. (JD)

SURVEY OF LIBRARY VIDEO RESOURCES, 1977

Introduction

The attached is a summary of the survey conducted in the winter of 1976-77. About three hundred eighty responses are represented, with a copy of the survey form for handy de-coding. The responses have also been punched onto McBee Keysort cards for additional extraction of informative correlations. The persons responsible are Marilyn Rehnberg and Genene Anderson, of Rockford (Ill.) Public Library; any complaints or inquiries may be so directed.

The following notes may be helpful in understanding this "directory": Some entries may seem internally inconsistent. This may be due to ambivalence on the part of the respondant; we had more than one response for some libraries, with variations. Asterisks indicate those producing video. With the exception of answers to survey question #2 (how many tapes in collection), all zeros indicate "no answer". An x in response to #14d indicates we received a videography from that source.

Phone numbers given are generally for the institution; however, if the respondant gave a different number, that one was given preference, on the theory that he/she would be the person wanted.

We who are active on the Video Distribution and Exchange Committee hope that this information will be used to develop cooperation and sharing of resources among libraries and other information agencies.
